

Isabel Michel

Isabel Michel, born in 1990, studied law at the University of Augsburg from 2010 to 2016. Already during her academic studies, she focused on bio-, health- and medical law. She completed the legal clerkship from 2016 to 2018 with a specialist lawyer for medical law, among others.

Isabel Michel has been admitted to the bar since 2019. She initially worked for a law firm specializing in commercial law. The focus of her work here included medical law, in particular physician professional law.

Since January 2022, Isabel Michel has been part of the team of the law firm Meisterernst Rechtsanwälte. She represents and advises clients in all matters of pharmaceutical and medical device law.

Her main focus includes in particular:

- Regulatory and competition law issues concerning human and veterinary medicinal products and medical devices (e.g. marketing authorisations, certifications, manufacture, pharmacovigilance, advertising and demarcation of medicinal products, medical devices and cosmetics)
- Drafting and negotiating contracts (including licence and distribution agreements, cooperation agreements, drafting "terms of use", drafting the distribution of liability within the supply chain, in particular manufacturers and importers, and drafting therapy support programmes)
- Compliance (anti-corruption, industry codes, cooperation with healthcare professionals, in particular also medical professional law)
- Advice on the possibilities of communication and advertising regarding medicinal products and medical devices (in particular labelling, product advertising and e-health, such as the design of online platforms and influencer marketing)
- Counselling and representation in competition law disputes (warning letters, cease and desist letters, injunctions)

She advises in German and English.
