

Katharina Stange

Katharina Stange, born 1993, studied law at the University of Trier from 2013 to 2018 with a focus on European law. Already during her studies, she focused on intellectual property law and acquired various additional qualifications in European intellectual property law and competition law. During her studies, Ms Stange worked as a research assistant at the Academy of European Law in Trier, where she assisted in the preparation and organisation of seminars and conferences on intellectual property law and European business law. She completed her legal traineeship at the Higher Regional Court of Hamm from 2018 to 2021, among others in a renowned patent law firm in Düsseldorf.

Ms Stange was admitted as a lawyer in 2021 and has strengthened the Meisterernst Rechtsanwälte team since June 2021. The focus of her work is on advising national and international clients on food law and competition law issues.

Ms Stange advises in German and English.
